Special Session: Intelligent Systems in Medicine

Scope and topics

This special session intend to discover and highlight new possible applications of recent developing technique, artificial intelligence and machine learning in medicine. This might improve patient's assistance and professionals' work. The aim is to debate the main concepts of cognitive sciences, in the new context of robotics and intelligent systems targeting their effect on human beings, through medicine.

Original contributions focused on, but not necessarily limited to, the following topics are welcomed:

- Machine learning, vision, deep learning technologies and classical approaches on medical systems
- Computer-aided diagnostics, decision support systems, decision-making technique and multiple attribute decision making, in medical fields
- Fuzzy logic and fuzzy systems in medical decision
- Medical image processing
- Neural network technologies and applications in medicine
- Artificial Intelligence for medical systems, cognitive sciences, viral diseases
